

H. R. 3807 - Federal Executive Service

1. Although CIA and its employees are specifically excluded from the proposed Subchapter II, "The Federal Executive Service," other provisions in the bill impair existing CIA statutory authorities (and impose new requirements and restrictions) with respect to employees falling within the pay band GS-16 to level V of the Executive Schedule.

2. Section 2(a)(2)(B). This provision conflicts with the Director's personnel management authority including the statutory authority under Section 102(c) of the National Security Act of 1947 to terminate the employment of any Agency officer or employee.

a. The meaning of the term "excepted employee" as used in this provision is ambiguous, but a reading excluding CIA employees from that term would be difficult to sustain. Consequently, the provision would appear to apply to CIA and would require the Agency to either:

(1) enter into an initial employment agreement under 5 USC

3137 which would conflict with the Director's current authorities by:

(a) establishing tenure of office [3137 (b)];

(b) limiting scope and purpose of assignment [(d)(1)];

(c) assuring no reductions in pay [(d)(3)];

(d) limiting reason for separation to "cause as will promote the efficiency of the service" [(d)(4)]; or

(2) guarantee no change in tenure or loss of employment and job protection benefits (while it can be argued that this requirement does not affect the Agency since Agency employees do not enjoy tenure or job protection benefits, it can also be argued in context of the language and philosophy of the bill that job security is inherent in all cases where an initial employment agreement is neither offered nor accepted.)

b. Tied to the above provisions are the appeal rights of section 2(a)(3). The existence of an appeal mechanism to preserve "rights" may give credence to the contention in (2) above. Such appeal rights would be in conflict with current law as it applies to CIA.

3. Section 2(b). This provision provides the sole pay fixing authority for incumbents of positions within the pay band GS-16 through 18 who are neither in the FES or an "agency program" under section 3 of subchapter II. This exclusive pay authority constitutes a repeal of current Agency authority to fix such pay.

4. Section 3. This section appears to be fully applicable to Agency positions and presents the following serious problems:

a. It would constitute the only authority for continuing a position within the pay band GS-16 through GS-18 and seeks by general repealer to repeal conflicting authority such as section 8 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949 (see section 8 attached).

--The language is ambiguous as to whether new positions established after the effective date of the act are subject to this section. It is clearly intended that they be covered.

b. Section 3(b) imposes a requirement on the Agency for external reporting to the Civil Service Commission in conflict with existing law pertaining to the disclosure of information concerning CIA positions (see section 6, CIA Act of 1949 attached).

c. Agency employees currently in the pay band GS-16 through GS-18:

(1) either are brought into the Federal Executive Service or into a similar program established by the Agency pursuant to section 3143 of subchapter II (the extent to which the Agency program would be subject to outside review and determination and its impact on other current Agency authority is fuzzy, a cause for concern by itself), or

(2) could continue to hold this position pursuant to section 3 with a requirement on the Agency to report the fact to the Civil Service Commission. (The authority of section 3 would atrophy as current incumbents leave their positions. The sole authority for establishing new positions and assigning incumbents to them would be an Agency program modeled after the FES.)

5. Conclusion. In view of the above, the Agency's existing authorities would be seriously impaired by sections 2 and 3 of H. R. 3807 which conflict with existing provisions of law pertaining to the hiring and firing of CIA personnel and the disclosure or publication of information concerning CIA positions.

H. R. 3807 (S. 1682) - Federal Executive Service

I. Perfecting Amendments

(a) In section 2 (between lines 7 and 8 on page 33) add:

"(c) This section shall not apply to either the Central Intelligence Agency or its employees."

(b) In section 3 (at line 21, page 34) add:

"(c) This section shall not apply to the Central Intelligence Agency."

II. Explanation of Perfecting Amendments

The Central Intelligence Agency has been specifically exempted from the Federal Executive Service which is established by section 1 of H. R. 3807 (section 3132 (iv)). Sections 2 and 3 of the bill provide certain transitional authorities and related reporting requirements. The perfecting amendments exempt CIA from these sections in order to eliminate any possible conflict with existing provisions of law pertaining to the hiring and firing of CIA personnel and the disclosure or publication of information concerning CIA positions.
